Tuesday 7th July 2020 – Arithmetic

$$901 + 100 = 1001 \qquad 77 \times 7 = 539 \qquad 5489 + 443 = 5932 \qquad 24 \times 4 = 96 \qquad 412 = 412 \times 1$$
$$319 - 40 = 279 \qquad \frac{5}{12} - \frac{3}{12} = \frac{2}{12} \text{ OR } \frac{1}{6} \qquad 3500 \div 7 = 500 \qquad 572 - 59.9 = 512.1$$

Choosing 5 objects from the sinking ship

And the answer was...the island was full of poisonous snakes and the beach was the only safe place BUT at night the sea rose and covered the beach.

SO do you think you would have survived that with your 5 items? Why not email your teacher or Mrs Jessener and explain what you would have done?

Island animals – dangerous or safe?

You will be pleased to hear that none of the animals on your island are REALLY dangerous. Even the dangerous ones will rarely attack. So.....

SAFE = the hermit crab, the goliath spider (he's cute!), the binturong (have been kept as pets in parts of Asia) , guinea fowl, humming bird, monk seal and leopard shark. (This type of shark is very shy and there are no records of them causing any fatality)

CAN BE DANGEROUS = Dart frogs (poisonous skin will make you ill if you touch it but would only kill you if it went inside your body). Bullet ants (won't kill you but, if accidentally disturbed, will give you some of the most painful bites ever). Swordfish (never attack humans but will use their point to try to escape capture which can harm humans). Alligators attack less frequently than you think and don't generally like eating humans but can kill us. Squid can be dangerous depending on the size and species. Many are harmless but some large, aggressive species have grabbed and killed divers. Sting rays are not generally dangerous. They never attack humans but can give a painful sting if disturbed or accidentally trodden on. In very rare cases, the sting can lead to death.

Island animals and plants – can I eat them?

GOOD TO EAT= Papaya is fine to eat (as long as it is ripe) Squid is a very popular food as is swordfish (if you can catch them). Guinea fowl is very much like turkey or chicken. Alligator meat is popular in some parts of the USA. Goliath spiders are a delicacy in parts of south America, roasted in banana leaves! Hermit crabs can be eaten. Binturong have been hunted for their meat and so have leopard sharks. Monk seals are rarely eaten by humans now but used to be hunted for meat in olden times. Hummingbirds can be eaten but are very small. Stingrays can also be eaten.

OK /BE CAREFUL = cashew nuts are very tasty BUT raw, they are toxic and could make you sick. Cashews must be roasted before eating. Bullet ants are not generally eaten. It would be possible but a lot of effort and risk to catch them for little meat.

DO NOT EAT = Dart frogs have poison in their skin which is strong enough to kill 10 people or more. Don't try eating them.
